General information to assist elected candidates in local government elections complete a return of election gifts form (LGEGF 1) required under the Local Government Act 1993

Final Return

All candidates must submit to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the relevant local government, within three months of the conclusion of the election, a final return of gifts received in the approved return. The return can be given or posted to the CEO at the address of the local government's public office.

Nomination deposits ($150) will be refunded at the conclusion of the expiration of the 30 day disclosure period following the declaration of the election and upon receipt of the final return of election gifts required under the Act.

Final or Interim Return

Prior to making the declaration of office as a Mayor/Councillor, all elected candidates must submit a return of elections gifts to the CEO. The return can be a FINAL RETURN or an INTERIM RETURN.

Interim return — may be submitted to the CEO if the elected candidate does not have all the information regarding gifts readily available prior to taking the declaration of office. The elected candidate would however, need to ensure that a final return was submitted within the three month period after the conclusion of the election.

Final return — alternatively, if the elected candidate is confident that all the information regarding election gifts received is to hand and accurate prior to the taking of the declaration of office, the elected candidate may submit a final return to the CEO. The final return must state that the candidate does not expect to receive any further gifts in the disclosure period and will give a further return if gifts are received.

NB. If gifts are received as an individual candidate (including the individual's campaign committee), or as a member of a group of candidates (including the group's campaign committee), the elected candidate must complete both Sections B and C of Local Government Election Gifts Form 1.

Other relevant information

Amending a Return

Section 432 of the Act allows a person who has submitted a final return to apply to the CEO at any time to correct an error or omission in the return.

Required Information

A person who suspects or believes that a final return has an error or omission may inform the CEO of their suspicion or belief. The candidate making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so in accordance with Section 432 of the Act.

If a candidate is unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the candidate must state in the certification of their return, where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the candidate within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO in accordance with Section 438 of the Act.

Inspection

Section 434 of the Act provides that all final returns will be kept in a Register of Electoral Gifts which is open to inspection by any person.

Important Note

Substantial penalties apply for failure to lodge a return or if the contents are false or misleading. Persons completing disclosure of election gifts forms are strongly advised to familiarise themselves with the definitions and provisions of Chapter 5 Part 8 of the Local Government Act 1993 and/or the contents of the Queensland Department of Local Government and Planning's Handbook on the "Disclosure of Election Gifts".

Other relevant information

Amending a Return

Section 432 of the Act allows a person who has submitted a final return to apply to the CEO at any time to correct an error or omission in the return.

Required Information

A person who suspects or believes that a final return has an error or omission may inform the CEO of their suspicion or belief. The candidate making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so in accordance with Section 432 of the Act.

If a candidate is unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the candidate must state in the certification of their return, where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the candidate within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO in accordance with Section 438 of the Act.

Inspection

Section 434 of the Act provides that all final returns will be kept in a Register of Electoral Gifts which is open to inspection by any person.

MEMORANDUM

To : Dale Dickson, Chief Executive Officer

From : Cr Peter Young

Subject : Return of Gifts Register

Date : 20 May 2004

On 5 April 2004 I submitted an interim 'Return of Gifts' register relevant to my re-election as Councillor for Division 5.

Within that return I included an entry for a donation of $3,000 from Cater Corporation. That figure is incorrect and should be $5,000. This error arose from an error in my record keeping and was just recently made apparent when the Director of that company returned from an overseas holiday.

In keeping with s432 of the Local Government Act (Amendment of Returns) I am making application to amend the Interim Return.

I have attached an amended copy of the relevant pages of my return, for inclusion on the Register that you maintain. Please note that it is still my intention to lodge a Final Return before the close of the period allowed under the legislation.

If there are any problems or issues arising from this notification please do not hesitate to contact me

General information to assist successful candidates in local government elections, complete a return of election gifts form (LGEGF 1) required under the Local Government Act 1993

Final Return

All candidates must submit to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the relevant local government, within three months after the conclusion of the election, a final return of gifts received in the approved return. The return can be given or posted to the CEO at the address of the local government's public office.

Nomination deposits ($150) will be refunded at the conclusion of the expiration of the 30 day disclosure period following the declaration of the election and upon receipt of the final return of election gifts required under the Act.

Final or Interim Return

Prior to making the declaration of office as a Mayor/Councillor, all successful candidates must submit a return of elections gifts to the CEO. The return can be a FINAL RETURN or an INTERIM RETURN.

Interim return - may be submitted to the CEO if the successful candidate does not have all the information regarding gifts readily available prior to taking the declaration of office. The successful candidate would however, need to ensure that a final return was submitted within the three month period after the conclusion of the election.

Final return - alternatively, if the successful candidate is confident that all the information regarding election gifts received is to hand and accurate prior to the taking of the declaration of office, the successful candidate may submit a final return to the CEO. The final return must state that the candidate does not expect to receive any further gifts in the disclosure period and will give a further return if gifts are received.

NB. If gifts are received as an individual candidate (including the individual's campaign committee), or as a member of a group of candidates (including the group's campaign committee), the successful candidate must complete both Sections B and C of Local Government Election Gifts Form 1.

Other relevant information

Amending a Return

Section 432 of the Act allows a person who has submitted a final return to apply to the CEO at any time to correct an error or omission in the return.

Required Information

A person who suspects or believes that a final return has an error or omission may inform the CEO of their suspicion or belief. The candidate making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so in accordance with Section 432 of the Act.

If a candidate is unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the candidate must state in the certification of their return, where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the candidate within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO in accordance with Section 438 of the Act.

Inspection

Section 434 of the Act provides that all final returns will be kept in a Register of Electoral Gifts which is open to inspection by any person.

Important Note

Substantial penalties apply for failure to lodge a return or if the contents are false or misleading. Persons completing disclosure of election gifts forms are strongly advised to familiarise themselves with the definitions and provisions of Chapter 5 Part 8 of the Local Government Act 1993 and/or the contents of the Queensland Department of Communication and Information, Local Government, Planning and Sport's Handbook on the "Disclosure of Election Gifts".

MEMO TO: Tony Davis, Manager Office of the CEO

MEMO FROM: Cr Eddy Sarroff

SUBJECT: Local government Election Gifts Return of Gifts

FAXED
24/12/04

Following our discussion last week in relation to the Return of Gifts register, I have sited the forms and make these comments. My interim return covered the period up to 5/5/2004 which showed an amount of $4453.50. My final returned covered the period from 5/5/2004 to 28/6/2004 with the value of the gifs received being $3801.20.

To avoid any confusion can you ensure that when the register is being inspected that both returns are presented.

For the purpose of providing the information as required by the Council resolution, the total donations would of course be a combination of the interim and final returns, totaling $8254.70.

I hope this clarifies the matter. If you require further clarification please do not hesitate to call.

Thank you.

General information to assist successful candidates in local government elections, complete a return of election gifts form (LGE GF 1) required under the *Local Government Act 1993

Final Return

All candidates must submit to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the relevant local government, within three months after the conclusion of the election, a final return of gifts received in the approved return. The return can be given or posted to the CEO at the address of the local government's public office.

Nomination deposits ($150) will be refunded at the conclusion of the expiration of the 30 day disclosure period following the declaration of the election and upon receipt of the final return of election gifts required under the Act.

Final or Interim Return

Prior to making the declaration of office as a Mayor/Councillor, all successful candidates must submit a return of elections gifts to the CEO. The return can be a FINAL RETURN or an INTERIM RETURN.

Interim return - may be submitted to the CEO if the successful candidate does not have all the information regarding gifts readily available prior to taking the declaration of office. The successful candidate would however, need to ensure that a final return was submitted within the three month period after the conclusion of the election.

Final return - alternatively, if the successful candidate is confident that all the information regarding election gifts received is to hand and accurate prior to the taking of the declaration of office, the successful candidate may submit a final return to the CEO. The final return must state that the candidate does not expect to receive any further gifts in the disclosure period and will give a further return if gifts are received.

NB. If gifts are received as an individual candidate (including the individual's campaign committee), or as a member of a group of candidates (including the group's campaign committee), the successful candidate must complete both Sections B and C of Local Government Election Gifts Form 1.

Other relevant information

Amending a Return

Section 432 of the Act allows a person who has submitted a final return to apply to the CEO at any time to correct an error or omission in the return.

Required Information

A person who suspects or believes that a final return has an error or omission may inform the CEO of their suspicion or belief. The candidate making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so in accordance with Section 432 of the Act.

If a candidate is unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the candidate must state in the certification of their return, where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the candidate within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO in accordance with Section 438 of the Act.

Inspection

Section 434 of the Act provides that all final returns will be kept in a Register of Electoral Gifts which is open to inspection by any person.

Important Note

Substantial penalties apply for failure to lodge a return or if the contents are false or misleading. Persons completing disclosure of election gifts forms are strongly advised to familiarise themselves with the definitions and provisions of Chapter 5 Part 8 of the Local Government Act 1993 and/or the contents of the Queensland Department of Communication and Information, Local Government, Planning and Sport's Handbook on the "Disclosure of Election Gifts".

The candidate making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so in accordance with Section 432 of the Act.

If a candidate is unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the candidate must state in the certification of their return, where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the candidate within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO in accordance with Section 438 of the Act.

Inspection

Section 434 of the Act provides that all final returns will be kept in a Register of Electoral Gifts which is open to inspection by any person.

Important Note

Substantial penalties apply for failure to lodge a return or if the contents are false or misleading. Persons completing disclosure of election gifts forms are strongly advised to familiarise themselves with the definitions and provisions of Chapter 5 Part 8 of the Local Government Act 1993 and/or the contents of the Queensland Department of Communication and Information, Local Government, Planning and Sport's Handbook on the "Disclosure of Election Gifts".

General information to assist successful candidates in local government elections, complete a return of election gifts form (LGE GF 1) required under the Local Government Act 1993

Final Return

All candidates must submit to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the relevant local government, within three months after the conclusion of the election, a final return of gifts received in the approved return. The return can be given or posted to the CEO at the address of the local government's public office.

Nomination deposits ($150) will be refunded at the conclusion of the expiration of the 30 day disclosure period following the declaration of the election and upon receipt of the final return of election gifts required under the Act.

Final or Interim Return

Prior to making the declaration of office as a Mayor/Councillor, all successful candidates must submit a return of elections gifts to the CEO. The return can be a FINAL RETURN or an INTERIM RETURN.

Interim return - may be submitted to the CEO if the successful candidate does not have all the information regarding gifts readily available prior to taking the declaration of office. The successful candidate would however, need to ensure that a final return was submitted within the three month period after the conclusion of the election.

Final return - alternatively, if the successful candidate is confident that all the information regarding election gifts received is to hand and accurate prior to the taking of the declaration of office, the successful candidate may submit a final return to the CEO. The final return must state that the candidate does not expect to receive any further gifts in the disclosure period and will give a further return if gifts are received.

NB. If gifts are received as an individual candidate (including the individual's campaign committee), or as a member of a group of candidates (including the group's campaign committee), the successful candidate must complete both Sections B and C of Local Government Election Gifts Form 1.

Other relevant information

Amending a Return

Section 432 of the Act allows a person who has submitted a final return to apply to the CEO at any time to correct an error or omission in the return.

Required Information

A person who suspects or believes that a final return has an error or omission may inform the CEO of their suspicion or belief. The candidate making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so in accordance with Section 432 of the Act.

If a candidate is unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the candidate must state in the certification of their return, where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the candidate within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO in accordance with Section 438 of the Act.

Inspection

Section 434 of the Act provides that all final returns will be kept in a Register of Electoral Gifts which is open to inspection by any person.

Important Note

Substantial penalties apply for failure to lodge a return or if the contents are false or misleading. Persons completing disclosure of election gifts forms are strongly advised to familiarise themselves with the definitions and provisions of Chapter 5 Part 8 of the Local Government Act 1993 and/or the contents of the Queensland Department of Communication and Information, Local Government, Planning and Sport's Handbook on the "Disclosure of Election Gifts".

Dear Greg,

Re: Campaign Expenditure Summary – G.Betts Division 12
2004 Gold Coast City Council Elections

Please find attached copies of statements and invoices detailing individual items of expenditure (and receipts) by Quadrant on your behalf for the recent local body elections.

In total, Quadrant expended $24,978.97 on your Division 12 campaign activity.

This expenditure was funded by the Lionel Barden Trust to the extent of $16,978.97 paid directly to Quadrant by the Lionel Barden Trust. A further $8,000.00 was paid directly from your Campaign Account.

Congratulations on a successful outcome and please don't hesitate to call me if you require any further information.

Kind regards

General information to assist successful candidates in local government elections, complete a return of election gifts form (LGEGF 1) required under the Local Government Act 1993

Final Return

All candidates must submit to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the relevant local government, within three months after the conclusion of the election, a final return of gifts received in the approved return. The return can be given or posted to the CEO at the address of the local government's public office.

Nomination deposits ($150) will be refunded at the conclusion of the expiration of the 30 day disclosure period following the declaration of the election and upon receipt of the final return of election gifts required under the Act.

Final or Interim Return

Prior to making the declaration of office as a Mayor/Councillor, all successful candidates must submit a return of elections gifts to the CEO. The return can be a FINAL RETURN or an INTERIM RETURN.

Interim return - may be submitted to the CEO if the successful candidate does not have all the information regarding gifts readily available prior to taking the declaration of office. The successful candidate would however, need to ensure that a final return was submitted within the three month period after the conclusion of the election.

Final return - alternatively, if the successful candidate is confident that all the information regarding election gifts received is to hand and accurate prior to the taking of the declaration of office, the successful candidate may submit a final return to the CEO. The final return must state that the candidate does not expect to receive any further gifts in the disclosure period and will give a further return if gifts are received.

NB. If gifts are received as an individual candidate (including the individual's campaign committee), or as a member of a group of candidates (including the group's campaign committee), the successful candidate must complete both Sections B and C of Local Government Election Gifts Form 1.

Other relevant information

Amending a Return

Section 432 of the Act allows a person who has submitted a final return to apply to the CEO at any time to correct an error or omission in the return.

Required Information

A person who suspects or believes that a final return has an error or omission may inform the CEO of their suspicion or belief. The candidate making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so in accordance with Section 432 of the Act.

If a candidate is unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the candidate must state in the certification of their return, where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the candidate within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO in accordance with Section 438 of the Act.

Inspection

Section 434 of the Act provides that all final returns will be kept in a Register of Electoral Gifts which is open to inspection by any person.

Important Note

Substantial penalties apply for failure to lodge a return or if the contents are false or misleading. Persons completing disclosure of election gifts forms are strongly advised to familiarise themselves with the definitions and provisions of Chapter 5 Part 8 of the Local Government Act 1993 and/or the contents of the Queensland Department of Communication and Information, Local Government, Planning and Sport's Handbook on the "Disclosure of Election Gifts".

General information to assist persons (or organisations) other than a political party or a candidate for a local government election complete a return of election gifts form (LGEGF 3) required under the Local Government Act 1993

The completed final return must be given to the CEO of the relevant local government or posted to the CEO at the address of the local government's public office within three months after the conclusion of the election.

A third party does not include a person who is a member of a candidate's campaign committee or a group's campaign committee for an election of the candidate or members of a group of candidates.

(NB: Where a gift with a value of $1,000 or more is received and expenditure for a political purpose of an amount greater than $1,000 occurs and relates to two or more local governments, a separate return must be furnished to EACH local government disclosing the full value of the gift in each return.)

Section 432 of the Act allows a person who has given a final return to apply to amend it at any time to correct an error or omission in the return.

All returns will be kept in a Register of Electoral Gifts which is open to inspection by any person (Section 434).

A person who suspects or believes that a final return has an error or omission may inform the CEO of their suspicion or belief. The third party making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so (Section 432).

If unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the third party making the return must state where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the third party within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO (Section 438).

Important Note

Substantial penalties apply for failure to lodge a return or if the contents are false or misleading. Persons completing this form are strongly advised to familiarise themselves with the definitions and provisions of Chapter 5 Part 8 of the Local Government Act 1993 and/or the contents of the Queensland Department of Local Government and Planning's Handbook on the "Disclosure of Election Gifts".

General information to assist successful candidates in local government elections,
complete a return of election gifts form (LGEGF 1) required under
the *Local Government Act 1993

Final Return

All candidates must submit to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the relevant local government, within three months after the conclusion of the election, a final return of gifts received in the approved return. The return can be given or posted to the CEO at the address of the local government's public office.

Nomination deposits ($150) will be refunded at the conclusion of the expiration of the 30 day disclosure period following the declaration of the election and upon receipt of the final return of election gifts required under the Act.

Final or Interim Return

Prior to making the declaration of office as a Mayor/Councillor, all successful candidates must submit a return of elections gifts to the CEO. The return can be a FINAL RETURN or an INTERIM RETURN.

Interim return - may be submitted to the CEO if the successful candidate does not have all the information regarding gifts readily available prior to taking the declaration of office. The successful candidate would however, need to ensure that a final return was submitted within the three month period after the conclusion of the election.

Final return - alternatively, if the successful candidate is confident that all the information regarding election gifts received is to hand and accurate prior to the taking of the declaration of office, the successful candidate may submit a final return to the CEO. The final return must state that the candidate does not expect to receive any further gifts in the disclosure period and will give a further return if gifts are received.

NB. If gifts are received as an individual candidate (including the individual's campaign committee), or as a member of a group of candidates (including the group's campaign committee), the successful candidate must complete both Sections B and C of Local Government Election Gifts Form 1.

Other relevant information

Amending a Return

Section 432 of the Act allows a person who has submitted a final return to apply to the CEO at any time to correct an error or omission in the return.

Required Information

A person who suspects or believes that a final return has an error or omission may inform the CEO of their suspicion or belief. The candidate making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so in accordance with Section 432 of the Act.

If a candidate is unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the candidate must state in the certification of their return, where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the candidate within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO in accordance with Section 438 of the Act.

Final return - alternatively, if the successful candidate is confident that all the information regarding election gifts received is to hand and accurate prior to the taking of the declaration of office, the successful candidate may submit a final return to the CEO. The final return must state that the candidate does not expect to receive any further gifts in the disclosure period and will give a further return if gifts are received.

NB. If gifts are received as an individual candidate (including the individual's campaign committee), or as a member of a group of candidates (including the group's campaign committee), the successful candidate must complete both Sections B and C of Local Government Election Gifts Form 1.

Other relevant information

Amending a Return

Section 432 of the Act allows a person who has submitted a final return to apply to the CEO at any time to correct an error or omission in the return.

Required Information

A person who suspects or believes that a final return has an error or omission may inform the CEO of their suspicion or belief. The candidate making the return will then be advised and must, within 30 days, establish if the return needs to be amended and apply to do so in accordance with Section 432 of the Act.

If a candidate is unable to supply all information to complete a final return, the candidate must state in the certification of their return, where and why the return is deficient and who may be able to supply the missing particulars.

Information relevant to such a return that comes to the attention of the candidate within five years after the conclusion of the election must also be given to the CEO in accordance with Section 438 of the Act.

Inspection

Section 434 of the Act provides that all final returns will be kept in a Register of Electoral Gifts which is open to inspection by any person.

Important Note

Substantial penalties apply for failure to lodge a return or if the contents are false or misleading. Persons completing disclosure of election gifts forms are strongly advised to familiarise themselves with the definitions and provisions of Chapter 5 Part 8 of the Local Government Act 1993 and/or the contents of the Queensland Department of Communication and Information, Local Government, Planning and Sport's Handbook on the "Disclosure of Election Gifts".
